

CIRA IS BACK!!!

MEETING ANNOUNCEMENT

The Big Three Post-Pandemic Challenges in Labour Relations: return to work, accommodation, and ???.

Wednesday, November 23, 2022

The Saskatoon Club
417, 21st Street East, Saskatoon
5pm to 7pm, cocktails and appetizers.
Free event. No need to RSVP.

The Saskatoon Chapter of the Canadian Industrial Relations Association presents:

Leslie Belloc-Pinder, K.C. (arbitrator and investigator)

Robert Frost-Hinz, Partner, MLT Aikins (employer counsel)

Shannon Whyley, Whyley Legal Counsel & Labour Relations (union counsel)

As pandemic related restrictions are lifted, and the workplace returns to ‘business as usual’ there is a sense that change is underfoot and the employment relationship is forever changed. What are the lasting effects of the pandemic on labour relations? What are the big issues that employers and unions are grappling with as the new post-pandemic workplace takes shape?

Please join us as Saskatoon’s labour relations community meets in-person for the first time since Covid-19 forced us all online. We are a vibrant community engaged in sharing, listening and learning about emerging issues that affect the unionized workplace. We are friendly and there is a cash bar and tasty food, plus we all need a break from another [insert bad word] Zoom meeting.

For more information, please visit www.cirasaskatoon.com or contact the Chapter president:

Scott Walsworth (walsworth@edwards.usask.ca)

Associate Professor of Labour Relations,
University of Saskatchewan